Notes:

Office Max did not submit correctly, they had wrong quantities, missing items and some items that I'm not sure are correct. I reworked it to our form, but not 100%. Total would be higher, not lower.

Jones Harrison told me they went with higher end on the wood furniture since it may need to be heavier duty.

They also said that depending on the layout of the workstations, they could be significantly less (i.e. opposite side of panel)

Both Jones & Impact are turn-key. Not sure of others

Personal opinion - take a look at actual catalogs (samples if they have them) for Impact & Jones to see if you are comparing apples to apples and go from there. Both places can store until needed.

NOTE: statewide contract pricing on this started at 99,9

Notes: Jones

- * Jones Harrison told me they went with higher end on the 'wood' furniture since it needs to be heavier duty.
- * For the training room, the 72" tables will afford your workers the elbow room at only a modest price increase.
- * For the reasons noted earlier, my team does not feel that combo units are in your best interest. They would sacrifice file space,
- * lateral file & narrow panels for the mapping office are INCLUDED in the workstation price.

Notes: Impact

- * no special notes after presentation
