CLOSING: Since 1993, our business model at PSD Software stresses the delivery of superior customer service to our clients. Many software vendors serve only in a vendor capacity. They charge high prices for system software and invest little effort and expense in deploying their systems in a way that maximizes value for the client and that ensures an efficient and effective deployment. PSD Software strives to work as a partner with our clients. Our software license fees are normally lower than our competitors, and we partner with our clients to ensure that both parties invest the effort needed to guarantee a smooth deployment that exceeds client expectations. Our goal is to develop a satisfied customer and a long-term business relationship focused on results.
